

International Society for Intelligence Research (ISIR) ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Minneapolis, MN, USA

JULY
11
THRU
13
2019

LOCAL HOST:

Professor
James J. Lee

leex2293@umn.edu

www.isironline.org

Call for Papers

Please see isironline.org for information on how to register, submit an abstract, find accommodation, and more.

Special Day:

July 10

Inaugural one-day lecture series sponsored by IMC (all ISIR attendees are invited):

Professors Thomas J. Bouchard Jr., James J. Lee, & Matthew McGue
Behavioral Genetics Focusing on Intelligence Research: Its History to the Forefront of Big Data Advances

Some financial support available for all graduate students and postdocs traveling to ISIR to present.

See isironline.org for details of this fantastic pre-conference day.

Lifetime Achievement Award Address

Profoundly Gifted Adolescents and Top STEM Graduate Students at Age 50: Creativity, Productivity, and Lifestyle at Midlife

David Lubinski & Camilla P. Benbow
Vanderbilt University

President's Symposium I

Standardized Testing in College Admissions

Stephen Hsu, Michigan State University
Nathan Kuncel, University of Minnesota
Charles Murray, American Enterprise Institute

Richard H. Sander, University of California, Los Angeles

Amy Wax, University of Pennsylvania

President's Symposium II

Science and Ethics of Genetic Engineering

Gregory Cochran, University of Utah
Stephen Hsu, Michigan State University
Razib Khan, Insitome
Bruce Lahn, University of Chicago
Neven Sesardić

Distinguished Contributor Interview

Randall W. Engle
Georgia Institute of Technology

Holden Memorial Address for Distinguished Scientific Journalism

Being Intelligent About the End of the 20th Century

Razib Khan
Insitome